THE HEADLESS HORSEMAN

It was a dark and scary night. Ichabod Crane, a school teacher, was riding through the woods. He had visited his sweetheart, Katrina

Suddenly, he heard a horse's hoofs behind him. He was extremely frightened.

It was a ghost, the headless horseman.

The horseman chased the teacher on his ghost steed with glowing eyes.

The horseman threw his head, a jack-o-lantern, at the teacher.

And knocked him off his horse. He was out cold.

The townspeople searched for the teacher and found his hat, the horse's saddle, and the shattered jack-o-lantern. But the teacher was never seen again.
